TRACK TEAM ENDS BRILLIANT SEASON BY SWAMPING R. P. I.

Prof. Ibbotson (Col Lib)

Buff and Blue [illegible] Garners Eleven Out of [illegible]en First Places

FORD STARS IN SPRINTS

Eleven Seniors Vie In Last Meet Under Hamilton Colors

Trouncing Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy Saturday by a score of 85 5-6 to 45 1-6, the Continental track team brought to a successful conclusion the most successful season that Hamilton has witnessed for sixteen years. The meet marked the final appearance under the Buff and Blue of eleven seniors.

The Hill men captured eleven out of fifteen first places and tied for another to win by an overwhelming score.

Ford Wins Three Events

Captain Henry Ford, running his last races for Hamilton, concluded his three years of inter-collegiate competition in perfect fashion by taking first place in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and the 220-yard low hurdles. Frazee placed second in both the dash events.

Aderhold and Lathrop, both of whom were winding up their athletic careers, showed their best form of the season to win the 440 and 880 respectively. The time in both of these events was much faster than that in the Conference meet a week ago. The same was true in respect to other events.

Puglisi First In Javelin Throw

Although a comparative novice at this branch of competition, Puglisi hurled the javelin 155 feet 4 inches to win first place. He also took first in the broad jump.

Pritchard experienced little difficulty in winning both the mile and two mile events, although for the first mile of the latter it seemed likely that Lewis of the Engineers would provide some opposition.

The Buff and Blue lost its only first place in the track events when Hodgson nosed out Fisher to win the high hurdles.

The summary:

Pole Vault—Jayne, Hamilton, and Conlon, R. P. I., tied for first; Carlisle, Hamilton, and Suor, R. P. I., tied for third. Height 10 feet, 6 inches.

Shot Put—Won by Ferguson, R. P. I.,; Jones Hamilton, second; Kurnick, R. P. I., third. Distance, 38 feet, 8.8 inches.

Javelin Throw—Won by Puglisi, Hamilton; Sallee, R. P. I., second, Rhodes, R. P. I., third; Distance, 155 feet, 4 inches.

PI DELT PLEDGES SEVEN MEMBERS

Initiation Will Be Held Thursday In Emerson Hall

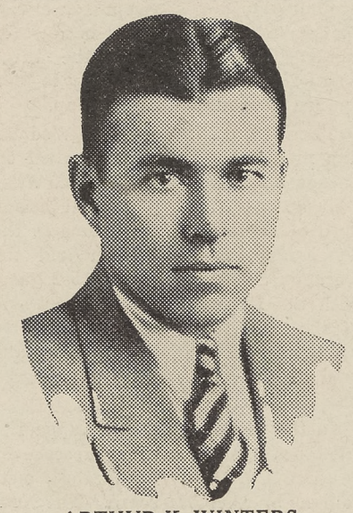
At a meeting of the local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon held Saturday morning in the College Chapel, two juniors and five sophomores were pledged. The men chosen were: James W. Moore, '31, Francis J. Crowley, '31, and Edward V. Gross, Charles S .Payne, William Sloan, Robert G. Phelps and William A. Monacelli, all of the class of 1932.

The list of initiates includes the editors-elect of three publications. Moore was recently elected editor of the "Gaboon," Crowley of the "Hand-Book" and Gross of the 1932 "Hamiltonian." In addition to the work connected with the "Hand Book," Crowley has figured prominently on the Life Board and is a letter man in football, basketball and baseball. Gross, Sloan, Monacelli and Moore also write for Life, Moore serving as Carpe Diem editor.

C. S. Payne will have charge of the art work for the 1932 "Hamiltonian" and is Art Editor of the "Hamilton Literary Magazine," acting in that capacity as the first Art Editor since 1928. Phelps is the Business Manager of the 1932 "Hamiltonian" and a member of the business staff of the "Royal Gaboon." Sloan and Monacelli are also members of the Press Board and the "Hamilton Literary Magazine" and of the "Royal Gaboon" and Press Boards, respectively.

The induction for the new members will be held Thursday eening at Emerson Hall. The annual initiation banquet will be discontinued this year on account of the lack of time remaining in the semester.

Coaches Successful Team



ARTHUR K. WINTERS

TRACK TEAM ENDS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Concludes Most Brilliant Season In Sixteen Years

With the final meet of the season a thing of the past ,the most successful track season that Hamilton has witnessed for 16 years has been brought to a close. Not once within this period of years has Hamilton possessed a track team which met with but a single reversal during the course of a season.

During the past two seasons the team has shown a steady improvement under the tutelage of Coach Winters. Last year's team, which met with two defeats, was hearlded as the best track team Hamilton had seen in 15 years.

Loses To Middlebury

The triangular meet with Middlebury and St. Lawrence, in which the Buff and Blue runners placed second to Middlebury, inaugurated the current season. While the supremacy of Middlebury is not to be questioned, there is no doubt that the Hill runners did not show their best form on this occasion.

An overwhelming victory over Rochester was followed by the capture of the New York State Conference title which broke Alfred's three-year reign of supremacy. Saturday's win over R. P. I. concluded the season.

Ford's Work Outstanding

Without a doubt the star of the season was Captain Henry Ford. His achievement of breaking three records in the Conference Meet was marred only by the fact that due to a high wind they were not accepted as official.

But slightly less brilliant was the performance of Walter Pritchard, star sophomore miler and two-miler, who met with but one defeat during the entire season.

Relay Team Undefeated

The relay team, composed of Lathrop, Denham, Denman and Aderhold, in addition to winning the Conference title, was undefeated throughout the season.

In commenting upon the current season, Coach Winters called attention to the large number of men scoring points. "While there were, without a doubt, individual stars, the fact that as many as twenty-three different men scored points in a single meet should be noted," he said.

Squad Will Lose Eleven Men

WAS LOS TAPS NEW MEMBERS

Six Sophomores Are Pledged By Junior Honorary Society

Was Los, honor society, tapped six members of the sophomore class beginning Monday, May 19, to succeed them on the Hill next fall.

Walter Pritchard was the first man chosen from his class for the honor. On the following days Morey Eames, Charles Estabrook, Benjamin Stone, Maynard Jones, and John Ready were trampled under foot by junior and senior Was Los members in the ceremony which signifies the pledging of new men.

In accordance with the time honored custom, Ready as sixth man was carried into the fountain and thoroughly drenched after his tapping on Monday.

INTERCLASS SING IS WON BY FRESHMEN

First Year Men Are Awarded Cup In Annual College Competition

LAW WRITES NEW SONG

Large Audience From Utica and Hill Hears Singing Contest

The class of 1933, singing "Shenandoah," "We Come To Hang Our Banners" and "Lord Jeffrey Amherst," was declared the winner in the sixth annual inter-class sing held Friday night. A large audience from Utica and the Hill greeted all the numbers enthusiastically. In the interlude between the regular singing and the judges award, the audience was entertained with three numbers by the double quartet which was so well received in the Varsity Show.

In making the award Professor Arthur P. Saunders declared that the junior class had won the cup before, but it was his opinion that the senior class had never won it. He went on to say that the judges had decided to make the sing one that the seniors would never forget, and award the cup to the freshman class. James Heyl, song leader of the freshman class, received the cup and thanked the class for their hearty co-operation.

Sing Two Songs By Law

In an interview with a Hamilton Life reporter after the sing, Dr. Saunders said further that he thought

CHANGES ARE MADE IN GABOON APPOINTMENTS

Proposal Calls For Appointment Of Three Assistant Managers

Plans have been made by the board of the "Royal Gaboon" for a new system of election for members of its business staff. By this plan a call will be issued each spring for members of the freshman class who wish to compete for the board. The competition will last from that time until the following spring, when the three highest competitors will be elected to fill the positions of three assistant business managers.

The competition will be further continued until the succeeding spring when from these three men a business manager, a circulation manager, and a credit manager will be chosen in the order named. The object of this plan is to make the board more restricted since there will be only three members of each class on the business staff.

NEW RULES FOR PI DELT ELIGIBILITY

Local Chapter of Honorary Fraternity Increases Requirements

SIX POINTS NECESSARY

Points System for Work On Publications Is Also Revised

Due to its rapidly increasing growth and the opinion of its members that a change in entrance requirements was necessary, the local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon increased the existing requirements at a meeting held Thursday morning in the College Chapel.

The new ruling states that instead of four, six points must be gained before a man may be pledged to the fraternity. A complete revision was made of the number of points awarded for positions on the local publications. They are as follows: Six credits will be given to any Editor-in-chief or Business Manager of the Hamilton Life; five to any Business Manager and Editor-in-chief of the "Hamiltonian," Managing Editor of Life, Editor-in-chief of the "Royal Gaboon," Business Manager of the same and Editor-in-chief of the "Hamilton Literary Magazine," four to any Business Manager of the "Hamilton Literary Magazine;" three to any Art Editor of the "Gaboon," Art Editor of the "Hamiltonian," Business Manager and Editor-in-chief of the "Hand Book;" two to any Carpe Diem Editor, Managing Editor of the "Hamiltonian," Advertising Manager of the "Hamiltonian," Feature Editor of the "Hamiltonian," Athletic Editor of the "Hamiltonian," Managing Editor of the "Gaboon," Exchange Editor of the "Gaboon," Art Editor of the "Hamilton Literary Magazine," members of the Board of Hamilton Life and Press Board, beginning next semester; one to any member of the other boards with the exception of those named. The old rule to the effect that a man may be elected to membership by a unanimous vote remains in force.

The number of new men pledged to the fraternity this year was greatly reduced from former years on account of this new eligibility rule, cutting down the active membership, starting next fall, to a total of 19 men.

The members of Pi Delta Epsilon also passed a ruling that no Sophomore elected Business Manager of any publication may count points thus gained toward election to membership until the end of his junior year. This rule does not apply to the Business Manager of the junior yearbook.

Hamiltonian Appears In Modernistic Dress; Feature Section of Futuristic Work Patterned After "New Yorker"

(By Vernon A. Ives, '30)

Fulsome praise has for so many years been the outstanding characteristic of Life's reviews of Hamilton's yearbooks that, when a distinctive and truly commendable "Hamiltonian" appears, the reviewer can do little more than repeat time-worn praises. The 1931 "Hamiltonian" deserves better treatment than this, for it is in many ways the finest annual produced here in many years.

"In a new and more vivid manner," to quote from the Foreword, is the way the editors have presented their more or less standardized material. Metropolitan treatment and modernistic illustrations may seem somewhat incongruous in a Hamilton publication, but there they are, and creditably handled as well.

Has Modernistic Motif

The cover gives the first hint of modernity with its orange and black illustration in the unintelligible futuristic fashion. The brilliant orange end-sheets are more easily deciphered, the division pages more or less comprehensive, and the sketches and caricatures of the feature section recognizable and clever. "New Yorker" type has been used wherever possible, and serves to give a uniformly modern appearance throughout the book.

The opening pages are colorful and original, and reflect considerable credit on Mr. Symonds, who is responsible for the bulk of the art work. They are of an excellent quality laid paper, which, unfortunately, is a trifle thin for the purpose. These are followed by the customary campus views, with a modernistic background in color, printed on a pebbled paper that removes all glare from the photographs.

Takes Off "New Yorker"

The lay-out of the text matter shows few changes from that of previous years, the most notable being the modernistic type and the imposition of the pages. The editors are to be particularly commended for the latter, for they have considered each two pages as a unit, and fitted their buff-colored margin around it. Of the body of the book two criticisms must be made. In many instances poor photography, poor engraving work, or insufficient ink has made the quality of the reproductions inconsistent, with a subsequent loss in appearance. Careless or hurried editing is responsible for a great number of typographical errors, which detract from an otherwise excellent handling of text matter.

The most outstanding and praiseworthy effort of the book is the feature section, an extremely consistent imitation of the "New Yorker." Credit for his "New Yorker" atmosphere must go to Mr. Bourne, the Business Manager, who is responsible for the great number of advertisements of metropolitan firms; to Mr. Davis and his helpers, who contributed articles of varying subjects and degrees of excellence, done in suitable style; and to Mr. Symonds and Mr. Payne, who, with pen and charcoal, kept the art work up to requirements. Not only is the work in this department a clever imitation of the "New Yorker," but it reflects the

GERMAN CLUB HOLDS LAST MEETING OF YEAR

Talk By Kuczycke Features Gathering At Home of Professor Hauch

An address by Ralph Kuczycke, '31, featured the last German Club meeting of the college year held at the home of Professor Edward F. Hauch Wednesday evening. About 15 members of the organization were present.

In his address Mr. Kuczycke gave a description of a journey through a section of the Rhine Valley. He described the country as seen both by land and water, including such points of interest as the cologne Cathederal and the Lorelei Rocks.

After Mr. Kuczycke's lecture the meeting was thrown open to a general discussion and Professor Hauch related several incidents which occurred on his journey through the Rhine Valley. Milton Kinsey, '30, retiring president, presided.

Two-Thirds of Students Drink And One-Third Admits Intemperance

SENIORS ARE WETTEST

Personal Desire Most Popular Reason Advanced for Abstinence

Does the irksomeness of college life lead a man to drink? Apparently, since 81 per cent of the senior class drink intoxicating beverages as compared with 54 per cent of the freshmen, and since 59 per cent of the seniors, a much larger proportion than any of the other classes, admit intemperance. These and other signal disclosures were revealed by the 354 answers to the prohibition questionnaire distributed to the undergraduates of Hamilton Life after chapel Friday morning.

An overwhelming majority are against the continuance of present conditions and only one-third of the students favor enforcement of the law. The questionnaire showed that while two-thirds of the undergraduates drink, only one-third gets drunk. Of these who drink, about 40 per cent have acquired the habit of art since coming to Hamilton. The senior class is by far the wettest, with the other classes trailing behind in the order of their seniority.

Freshmen Are Most Temperate

Answering the question, "Do you drink intoxicating beverages?" 232 stated that they did, while 122 said they did not. In the senior class there are 81 per cent who do; 67 per cent of the juniors do, 63 per cent of the sophomores, and 54 per cent of the freshmen. The per centage of drinkers at Hamilton is 65. At Princeton it was found by a similar questionnaire that 79 per cent of the students are confessed drinkers.

Of those who drink, 149 professed that they did so before coming to college. Here again the seniors lead, one half of them replying in the affirmative to the questionnaire, "Did you drink before coming to college?"

ALL'S NOT WELL ON THE RIALTO

To the already long list of straw votes in colleges and out on the question of Prohibition, Life adds the results of its poll of the student body taken in Chapel Friday morning. Like the outcome of many other attempts to gain an idea of public opinion on this matter, the results show a widespread dissatisfaction with conditions as they now exist under the Eighteenth Amendment. Only 35 out of the 354 students who cast ballots were in favor of the continuance of present conditions.

In attempting to remedy the situation, 124 believed in enforcement of the law while 212 opposed such a solution. Modification of the law was advocated by 170 and repeal by 144. The question of nullification or open disregard of the law was favored by 108 while 212 were against any such procedure. Of those who cast ballots, 232 drink, as against 122 who do not indulge. Of the former, 116 admit drinking to excess.

These figures but bear out those arising from similar questionnaires in other colleges and very closely parallel the final results of the Literary Digest Poll which found the country 69 per cent wet, with 31 per cent favoring enforcement, 29 per cent modification and 40 per cent repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. As such they are clearly indicative of the keen dissatisfaction with the law that has been growing increasingly apparent with the years.

Of course there is nothing very absolute about a straw vote or poll. In fact there are very few things that are absolute about anything in spite of all the claims made by all the proponents under the sun. But the one point that appears reasonably obvious in all this agitation is that the present law is a failure, utter and abject. It has had 10 years in which to approach the shadow of effectiveness. Now people are beginning to grow impatient of the continued attempts to legislate morals and are demanding a change. Counsel as to what road to take is somewhat divided but there is a striking unanimity about the necessity for taking some other course than that which we have been following.

Proponents of the Eighteenth Amendment have laid great store in the fact that it would ultimately be the rising generation that would make prohibition a reality. If all other resources failed, the youth of the country would finally solve the problem satisfactorily. They would be educated to it. It seems rather pathetic that the youth in which so much hope has been reposed has emphatically and unreservedly refused to usher in the Millenium And the more educated they become, the more the students in the colleges and universities of the country seem determined that the Eighteenth Amendment is not the summum bonum of this life. The further along they proceed in their college studies the more convinced they become that the law is just another attempt to try to use legislation to accomplish what only education can do.

The results of this poll need not startle anyone into thinking that college students are becoming a sadly degenerate lot. That would be an unfortunate conclusion. But it might well serve to help stimulate the realization that all is not well on the Rialto when a law continues to remain on the books and in the Constitution, although it fails to find justification in the minds of reasoning men.

ON COLLEGE SINGING

The sixth annual Interclass Sing held Friday evening was, as sings go, a success. But if the event was up to the mark of those set in past years, it certainly did not surpass it. Many were surprised to find that the singing appeared as well as it did considering the lax support during rehearsals which the song leaders in the various classes received. It can be hoped that next year the undergraduates will take the matter a little more seriously and really hold a sing that the college may be proud of.

The Freshman class should be congratulated upon its success in winning the cup offered by Professor and Mrs. Paul A. Fancher. There is one element in their victory which, although it does not in the slightest detract from the honor they have won, we think lacked the grace of being appropriate. In a sing of this nature, it only seems reasonable that Hamilton songs should be sung. This year the committee in charge of the event selected an appealing old sea chantey as the number that all the classes should sing. The other two choices were left up to the individual classes and the freshmen chose to sing "Lord Jeffrey Amherst" as one of their numbers. Thus it happened that the winning class sang only one Hamilton song.

We have spoken before in these columns about the need for singing Hamilton songs, an art that has been steadily dying out. It is true that the opportunities for the classes to get together and sing Hamilton songs are very few. It is because of this very fact that we think advantage should be taken of an occasion like the interclass sing to make use of our own songs. The feeble manner in which the songs were sung by the whole college in front of chapel after the sing shows how well acquainted we are with them.

If we are going to learn songs for such an event, we might very well begin to learn our own. If we must have a sing, we might very appropriately sing our own. If our songs are not satisfactory, then it is time that we got some that were. But before they are cast aside, they ought to be given a trial, and the only way to accomplish that is to sing them.

WHOSE YEARBOOK?

The 1931 Hamiltonian with its modernistic layout and clever arrangement provided a welcome relief to undergraduates accustomed to the drab product of previous years. Assuredly the editors have made a sincere and thorough effort to make this the best of yearbooks. Not only has this effort been applied in a literary sense but also in regard to the business department. More money has been spent in the production of this year's annual than ever before, and not without evident success. The moot question now is jxust whose yearbook is it.

Tradition has decreed for some years past that the junior class put out an annual and this custom has been followed regularly if not conscientiously. A certain apathy has seemed to exist among the members of the junior classes in regard to "their" yearbook. Indeed it has practically come to the point that it is no longer the junior class that publishes the annual but a few men selected by the members of the retiring board of the previous year. The junior class seems to have more or less "washed its hands" of the matter; an attitude far from encouraging to the men actually doing the work on the book.

Every class considers itself the best in college and the present junior class is no exception to the rule. But it is one thing to make an assertion and another to prove it. The class of 1931 has been given, through the medium of a yearbook superior to many in the past, an opportunity to prove its claim to a place among the "best." If it supports the new yearbook to the limit it will have done something that a junior class has not done for some time. The editors are through; it is now up to the junior class. Assuredly it is not a difficult matter to support something meriting support. Legally the class of 1931 is behind the Hamiltonian; if it goes under the class is financially responsible. Why not go the limit? Why not make this a junior yearbook in every sense of the word?

U. F. A. DEBATERS DEFEAT FRESHMEN

Utica Team Gets Unanimous Verdict On City Manager Question

Upholding Utica's present mayoralty system, as against a city manager form of government, the freshman debating team was defeated Friday night by the representatives of the Utica Free Academy. The score was 3-0.

The Hamilton team, consisting of Karl Poppe, R. Kerford Wilson and Arthur Chambers, endeavored to prove that the city-manager form of government was detrimental to the city, and both un-American and undemocratic, while the Academy debaters contended that the city manager plan is the most practicable.

The team from the Academy was made up of William Noon, Walter Moore, and Edwin Ehlingers. They claimed that a change of government was absolutely essential for the citizens of Utica and maintained that the city-manager plan was the best form of municipal government.

The judges, prominent Uticans, were Francis P. McGinty, President of the First Bank and Trust Co.; F. L. Thornberry, Secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., and Harry F. Coupe, '21. The meeting was presided over by Mr. A. S. Burdick.

FORUM

To the Editor of Hamilton Life:

Five years ago a custom was begun on the Hill which, although it has, of necessity, concerned only a small group of men, and has not enjoyed the great popular appeal of more sensational customs, has been highly regarded by those concerned. I refer to the annual award of the William Duncan Saunders Prize for undergraduate writing, which, I understand, is to be given this year for the last time.

Hamilton is a small college, and it is surprising that such a prize as the Duncan Saunders award should enjoy the fame it does, since the group of undergraduates with literary aspirations is a necessarily small one. But that there is such a group, and has been one for five years ,is evinced by the fact that more than 40 manuscripts have been submitted yearly. They show immature writing, surely, but the prize-winners are indicative of the quality of work that can be done by Hamilton men when an incentive is offered.

This incentive, I feel, should be continued. Not only does it make recognition of Hamilton's literary life and actions, but it perpetuates the memory of one who gave promise of bringing fame to the Hilltop which would rank with that called up by the names Scollard, Adams, Webster, Pound, Woollcott, Dounce, Weaver and Hutchens. Hamilton has a literary tradition, and anything helping to continue it should not suffer a sudden death.

BASEBALL TEAM TO PLAY AGGIES

Massachussets Nine On Hill Diamond In Final Game of Season

Spring sports activities will come to a close this Saturday on the last day of the college semester when the baseball team winds up its season against the Massachusetts Aggies on the Hill diamond. The return game with Union listed on the schedule for Memorial Day will not be played.

The Aggies nine is a newcomer to the Buff and Blue baseball schedule, and the game will provide a fitting climax to the season. The Continentals displayed an excellent brand of baseball at Union last week, and if the lead-off combination of Stevens, Crowley, Lawton, Eggleston and Harvey, which has been hitting the ball hard in the last few games, continues its good stick work, the squad should end the season with a victory.

DECAGON ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Council of Non-Fraternity Organization Chosen for Next Year

The annual meeting of the Decagon Society, association of neutral undergraduates, was held on Tuesday evening, May 20. President Frederick Davis presided over the session in which officers for the coming year were elected.

As a result of the election, the following will take over their duties in the fall: John W. Howard, '32, president; Robert Musial, '31, vice-president; Robert Kerr, '31, corresponding secretary; Homer C. Crane, '32, recording secretary ;S. Earl Hollenbeck, '32, treasurer; Irving Gellman, '33, historian. This group with Clarence B. Frank, and Theodore C. Massoth, '33, R. Grant Sechrist, '32, and two members to be elected in the fall from the Class of 1934, composes the Council of Ten, the governing body of the organization. The treasurer is considered an ex-officio member of the Council.

The Decagon Society invites all non-fraternity men to join the organization. The present enrollment is 40, and the organization will enter its third year in the fall.

THIRD ROUND OF MUSHBALL PLAYED

Interfraternity Tournament for Chi Psi Cup Nears Completion

The third round of the Interfraternity Mushball contest in the tournament for the Chi Psi cup was held on Wednesday and Friday nights. The different leagues have finished the preliminary games except for a few that have been postponed because of rain. The winners of the three leagues will be chosen shortly to play against each other for the cup.

There were five games on Wednesday night, the sixth being called off because of the dinner for Prof. Wisewell at the Theta Delta Chi house. Two of the other three teams in the 'A' league, Delta Upsilon and the Decagon Society, played a 15-2 game with the Decagons on the short end of the score. The D. U. team piled up their lead early in the game and held the Decagons to a few scattered hits.

In the 'B' league Delta Kappa Epsilon beat Psi Upsilon by a score of 8-1 and Chi Psi trounced the Emersonians by a similar score. The Neutrals, the champions of the 'C' league, won a game from Lambda Xi Sigma by a score of 4-1. The other two teams in the league also played a close game, the Chi Betes winning from the Lambda Chi Alpha team by a score of 2-0.

On Friday night one game was played before the Interclass sing. In the 'A' league the D. U's rode over the Theta Delts, scoring 10 runs to the Theta Delt's three. The Sigma Phi and Decagon teams started to play but were compelled to postpone their game after four innings because of the sing.

The teams which stand at the head of their respective leagues at present are: In the 'A' league, Delta Upsilon; in the 'B' league, Psi Upsilon, and in the 'C' league the Neutrals.

CARPE DIEM

It is with great regret that we announce this to be the next to last Carpe of the year. We hope you will be able to live without us through the summer and return with an eager desire to turn to us once again as the only real zest in life. (Or should we have capitalized that last word?). We owe all our success so far entirely to our characters. We give them all the credit and take none for ourselves because "we didn't even sing."

HILL GOLF TEAM COMPLETES CARD

Loses Last Three Matches To Colgate, Union and Amherst

The Hamilton College golf team concluded its season last week, losing the last three matches scheduled, the first to Colgate on Wednesday, 5-1; the second to Union at Schenectady on Friday, 4-2, and the most decisive of all to Amherst Saturday at Northampton, 6-0. All matches were played on rain-soaked courses and the going was exceedingly rough for the players.

Decker won his singles match Friday and Decker and Miller won the second foursome for Hamilton's only victories of the week-end.

In the Colgate match Wednesday, Captain Frank Mead capped a brilliant career on the Hamilton team by turning in a 73 to defeat Connell, Colgate first man, 2 and 1. This was the only Hamilton victory of the day. Tamblyn defeated Bannerman of Hamilton, one up in 19 holes. Benedict downed Decker, 2 and 1, while Davis defeated Miller, five up and four to play.

In the foursomes, Hamilton lost out entirely, Connell and Tamblyn defeating Mead and Bannerman, one up in 19 holes. Benedict and Davis won from Miller and Decker, two and one.

Colgate also opened the local season, winning here, four matches to two. George Decker was the only Hamilton player to win an individual match in this engagement.

On the day following the Colgate match the Hamilton squad visited the Drumlins course in Syracuse and there downed the Orange team, five matches to one. Three singles victories and wins in both foursomes gave the Hamilton team its decisive margin.

Hamilton then met Union on the Clinton course and the visitors were turned back, 4-2. Hamilton won three singles and one foursome in the match with Union.

In a return match wtih Syracuse here, Hamilton won by a 4-2 score, both teams playing ragged golf on a rain-soaked course. Two singles and two foursomes victories gave the Buff and Blue a decisive lead.

Captain Frank Mead, number one, and Bud Miller, number four man, who have been mainstays on the Hamilton team for several seasons past, will be lost to the squad through graduation this June. Decker, '32, number two, and Bannerman, '31, number three, will return to college next year.

INTERCLASS SING IS TAKEN BY FRESHMEN

that Theodore G. Law, '30, deserved a great deal of credit for the success of the entire sing. Two of Mr. Law's songs, "We're Here To Cheer," and "We're the Best Class on the Hill," were sung by the junior and senior classes respectively. The latter was written by Mr. Law especially for the occasion. Dr. Saunders also commented on the excellent representation of freshmen, and expressed the hope that in future sings the other classes would turn out in greater numbers.

Dr. A. P. Saunders, Professor Paul A. Fancher, and Professor Berrian R. Shute were the judges.

HAMILTONIAN APPEARS IN MODERNISTIC DRESS

modern spirit, as exhibited at Hamilton, with a skill that has never been equalled by undergraduates.

It remains only to say a word of general criticism. The 1931 "Hamiltonian" suffers from occasional poor photography, engraving and printing; from a lack of attention to detail in proof reading; and from a lack of sufficient blue-pencilling in the too-frequent mediocrity of the junior scurfs. On the other hand, it is to be highly commended for originality of treatment; for skill and hard work in the imitation of the "New Yorker;" for the first complete set of cuts in years; for extraordinary efficiency in financial management; and for an appearance on time.

from the graduation of Ford, Frazee, Aderhold, Lathrop, Grubb, Palmer, VanLoon, Carson, Carlisle, Hartman and Tucker, there is a considerable and likely nucleus to begin work with next year. To this will be added several promising candidates from the present freshmen squad.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Ord of Maplewood, N. J., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen Perry, to Philip Garner Corby, '28, of West Orange, N. J. Mr. Corby is now employed by the Western Electric Company at Kearny, N. J.

SPORT COMMENT

When Captain Ford eased up and coasted in at the finish of the 100-yard dash at R. P. I. Saturday only to find that he had covered the distance in 9.9 seconds, it looked as if he would have little trouble smashing the 220 record if he tried. To the surprise of all when he led the field to the tape in a fast 220 the watches registered 24.3 seconds. The track was paced off and it was discovered that the famous engineering college had slipped up in its calculations and that the track was a good 15 yards longer than the regulation 220 distance. Maybe "Hank" has established a record after all.

Although the Williams tennis team easily downed the Buff and Blue, 6-0, the Williams "Record" has something to say in favor of the Hamilton netmen. Speaking of McGregor, Number One man on the squad, the paper says: "The Tilden-like build . . . was a great advantage in service;" and of the Hamilton Number Two man: "A hard serve and exceptional court-covering ability were heavy assets in favor of Boeve."

Surf boarding now enters the lists as a college sport. This form of aquatic recreation will be offered to the students of the University of Oregon summer session who register for the Hawaiian cruise next summer.

A victory over R. P. I. in the final meet of the year Saturday climaxed one of the most successful seasons in Hamilton track history. The Buff and Blue bowed only to Middlebury, reputed to have the strongest team in the state of Vermont; and for the first time a Hamilton track team won the New York State Conference meet.

Purdue University has gone Hamilton one better in its athletics-for-all program by inaugurating inter-faculty competition on the campus. In a recent baseball game the faculty of the Agricultural College displayed their superiority over the engineering professors by virtue of a 7-5 victory.

Presenting himself as a horse of a darker color, Barney Puglisi, broad-jumping star of the local track team, entered the preliminaries of the javelin throw at R. P. I. Saturday and overturned the dope by taking first place with a heave of 155 feet and four inches.

The story goes that Barney pleaded with Coach Winters for the opportunity and when granted his desire tilted himself on his toes, drew in a deep breath, and totally disregarding the conservative method sent the missile hurtling 155 feet through the air.

"Three members of Pitt's great 1929 football team have resorted to surgery to repair the damage inflicted upon their noses by active work through three years of varsity football. Tom Parkinson, Joe Donchess, and Toby Uansa all submitted to operations during Easter in an effort to have their somewhat flattened nasal organs returned to normal."

UNDERGRADUATES FAVOR PROHIBITION CHANGE

Of the juniors, 46 per cent answered yes; 37 per cent of the sophomores did likewise, and 40 per cent of the freshmen. Two hundred said they did not drink before coming to college.

313 Against Present Conditions

The continuance of the present conditions was disapproved by an overwhelming majority: only 35 votes were cast for continuance, while 313 were against it. Only 14 per cent of the freshmen were for existing conditions, 10 per cent of the sophomores and juniors, and seven per cent of the seniors.

However, opinion was divided concerning what should be done to remedy conditions as they now are. Enforcement received 124 votes, with 212 against it. Against repeal there were 193, and for it 144. Modification seemed to offer the most popular solution, 170 voting in favor of it, and 168 against it.

59 per cent of Seniors Get Drunk

The question, "Do you get drunk?" elicited the information that 237 undergraduates do not, while 116, or 33 per cent, do get drunk. Therefore 116 drink intoxicating licquor but do not getdrunk. The freshmen and sophomore classes tie for the honor of most temperate, only 24 per cent of each confessing they become inebriated. The junior class is a trifle more moist, and the seniors become most intemperate, of all, with 31 per cent and 59 per cent tipplers respectively.

Only a little more than half of those who do not drink gave reasons for their sobriety. By far the largest number, 102, claimed that personal desire was the strongest deterrent from hard liquor. "Family influence" was what kept 31 undergraduates from strong waters, while "legal restrictions" accounted for 18. Thus, most of those who do not drink "don't like the stuff," as one freshman tersely put it. One undergraduate said he did not get drunk for the ambiguous reason that "It is not best." Another and more altrustic student gave as his reason, "Social welfare in general."

Repeal Favored by Many

The sophomores led in favoring enforcement of the law, with 43 per cent, while the freshmen had 38 per cent in favor of enforcement, the juniors 36 per cent, and the seniors 25 per cent. For repeal, the vote by classes was as follows: freshmen, 37 per cent, sophomores, 40 per cent, juniors, 50 per cent, and seniors, 44 per cent.

The sentiment for modification ran according to classes, the seniors being most in favor of it with 59 per cent. The juniors were 42 per cent for modification, the sophomores 47 per cent, and the freshmen 45 per cent.

Drinkers Favor Enforcement

Several interesting inferences were drawn from the answers to the various questions. It was revealed that modification without repeal was favored by 111 students. Those who drink but favor enforcement number 28. These last are aptly characterized by the reply which one undergraduate made to the question whether he drank intoxicating beverages. His answer was "Yes, but can get along without them very nicely." Another, replying to the same question, said feelingly, "Once."

More broadminded were the 48 students who said they did not drink, but favored repeal or modification of the present law. In voting for either modification or repeal, one undergraduate raised the despairing cry, "Anything to get good beer." Another student confessed to getting drunk, "but not on purpose."

Majority Against Disregarding Law

The question, "Are you in favor of nullification or open disregard of the law?" showed that 212 were against such a procedure, and only 108 were for it. Yet in this as in other questions, the sentiment became wetter in proportion to the seniority of the class. About 26 per cent of the freshmen voted affirmative, 27 per cent of the sophomores, and 41 per cent of both the juniors and seniors.

A nation-wide poll of a similar nature conducted by the Harvard Crimson indicated that 16,595 students in 14 colleges were in favor of modification or repeal, while only 838 were in favor of the present liquor conditions. Princeton heads the list with 79 per cent of its students confessed drinkers, while Amherst has 73 per cent, and Cornell is not far behind. At Dartmouth, only 188 students out of 1,437 voted dry.

HILL NINE BOWS BEFORE UNION AND SUSQUEHANNA BATTERS

Pennsylvania Team Conquors With Help of Buff and Blue Errors

LOSES HERE AND ON ROAD

Hill Players Tie Score In Ninth But Lose Out to Union 6-5

Unable to check its losing streak, the Buff and Blue nine suffered a 10-3 set-back at the hands of Susquehanna on the home diamond Thursday, and bowed to Union 6-5 at Schenectady Saturday.

The game with Susquehanna was loosely played, nine errors causing the downfall of the Hill squad. Hamilton collected as many hits as the visitors, but the Pennsylvania nine took advantage of the many misplays and registered an easy victory.

Visitors Get Early Lead

Susquehanna got off to an early lead, scoring two runs in the second inning on a pair of singles and an error. Eggleston relieved Harvey on the mound in the third, and the visitors immediately tallied again a walk and two singles.

The Pennsylvanians scored their fourth run in the next frame on an error by Eggleston, a passed ball, and a sacrifice; and in the seventh tallied twice on two hits and a sacrifice, bringing the count up to six before Hamilton was able to score.

The winners established a safe lead in the ninth with four more runs. Malasky opened the inning with a home run to deep right field, and a walk, a single, and an error accounted for the last three tallies.

Hill Rallies in Ninth

The Continentals threatened in the opening frame when Lawton and Eggleston rapped out two singles in a row, but failed to score. For the next five innings the Buff and Blue batters were unable to solve the delivery of the visiting pitcher, and were held hitless until the seventh when the first three men up singled and one run crossed the plate.

Hamilton's biggest inning was the ninth. Harvey singled for his second hit o fthe day, and Rienzo worked Traxer for a walk. Hiler bunted and reached first while Harvey was being forced at third. Henderson's single scored Rienzo, and Hiler crossed the plate with the final tally on the catcher's error.

Nosed Out By Union

The Buff and Blue displayed a much better brand of baseball against Union, tying the score at five-all in the ninth only to lose when the home team pushed across a run in the last half of the inning.

Union opened hostilities in the first, tallying twice on three singles and a walk; and scored again in the second frame on another free trip to first and a double.

A single and a passed ball in the fifth, and a pair of hits in the sixth brought in two more tallies for the Garnet and ended the scoring until the ninth.

Hamilton scored once in the second inning on a hit ,a passed ball, a walk, and a sacrifice; and again in the third on three successive singles by Stevens, Crowley and Lawton. Two more hits in the sixth accounted for the third run, and singles by Henderson and Stevens, coupled with two walks brought in two more tallies in the ninth to knot the count at 5-5.

The first man up for Union in the second half of the ninth inning singled, stole second, and came home with the winning run on a hit by Kahn, Garnet shortstop.

VARSITY "H" CLUB MEETING HELD

Lettermen Adopt Definite Program To Be Inaugrated In Fall

The program and plans of Hamilton's latest undergraduate organization, the Varsity "H" Club, progressed materially Thursday night at a meeting of the lettermen at Alpha Delta Phi Hall. LaRue G. Morris, '31, newly-elected president, presided over the meeting. Francis J. Crowly, '31, was elected treasurer of the club and Robert L. Wilson, '31 was named secretary.

The constitution was read and accepted. In outlining the plans and purposes of the club it states that the purpose is "to promote a better feeling between members of visiting teams and Hamilton men off the field and to organize the lettermen of the college in an effort to promote an even greater interest in athletics on the Hill."

The club will formally open its program next fall, but has been organized now so that it may start next year with a definite program in mind.

Qualifications for membership in the Varsity "H" Club state that a man may become a member if he is possessor of a Hamilton "H," no matter how earned.

VARSITY AND ALUMNI WILL MEET ON LINKS

Competition To Be Arranged Between Graduates And Golf Team

An alumni-varsity golf match will be held Commencement week if enough alumni can be found to furnish opposition to the college men picked to oppose them.

The Hamilton representatives will be chosen from the survivors of the college tournament being concluded this week. All alumni who wish to play in the competition may be assured of opposition by seeing Franklin Mead.

There are still two matches to be played in the college golf tournament to decide the winners. Mead and Bannerman will meet to decide the outcome of the first flight, while Hosmer and Pope will play for first position in the second flight. Several rounds are still to be played in the consolation flights.

COLLEGE CHURCH HOLDS MEETING

Two Elders Are Elected From Sophomore and Freshman Classes

The last meeting of the College Church was held on Sunday following an observance of the Lord's Supper. The communion was administered by the Rev. Paul D. Moody, president of Middlebury College.

Immediately after the service the meeting was turned over to Mr. Joseph D. Ibbotson, who presided over the reading of the reports and the election of elders. The treasurer of the church, Dean Edward Fitch, gave the report of the fund for the Teheran scholarship, which he said lacked about $150 in order to make it the desired two thousand.

After the report, Mr. Ibbotson opened the meeting to nominations for elders for the year 1930-31. John W. Howard, '32, and R. Kerford Wilson, '33, were unanimously elected to fill these offices.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Mr. Ibbotson.

Was Los Donates Fund To Endow College Band

Coincident with the presentation of the Fancher Trophy at the Inter-Class Sing Friday night Professor Arthur P. Saunders announced that Was Los, junior honorary society, had deposited the sum of 40 dollars in the Hayes National Bank, the income of which will be devoted to the purchase of music for the college band. Richard Redmond and Addison Smith, both of the class of '33, organized the band early in the semester.

Hon. Elihu Root Returns to Hill Home for Summer

The favorable weather of last week brought the Hon. Elihu Root, '64, to his summer home on the Hill. Mr. Root, who came to Clinton on Tuesday, will spend the summer months on College Hill and will return to his New York home in the fall.

. . . off the springboard it's FORM!

. . . in a cigarette it's TASTE!

GETTING DOWN to brass tacks, a cigarette is a smoke — made and bought for your own enjoyment.
But between just something to smoke, and tobacco character, richness, delicate aroma — in short, something to taste — well, that's the difference that accounts for Chesterfield's ever-mounting popularity—
"TASTE above everything"
